FLOYD SIMPSON

The world has lost a very special man.

Floyd H. Simpson Jr., 82, of Belmont, OH, died at home surrounded by his family on Saturday, July 23, 2016.

He was born August 1, 1933, in Harrison County, OH, the son of the late Floyd Harry Simpson and Helen Marie Kellie.

He is preceded in death by his wife, Shirley Ann Wells Simpson, as well as his brothers and sisters: James Simpson, Velna, Avis, and Helen Mae.

He is survived by his sons David, of Fremont, CA; Ronald, of Hollywood, FL; and Randy (Lisa), of Pataskala, OH, as well as grandchildren, April and Jared Simpson.

Following graduation from Freeport High School, Floyd enrolled at Ohio State University, then served in the U.S. Army in Korea. He was originally trained in NBC (nuclear, biological, and chemical) weaponry. However, once he arrived in Korea, he was assigned to the 8125th Army Sentry Dog detachment. One night Dad was on patrol with his dog, Val, and something caught Val's attention. The dog sprinted off with Dad, rifle in hand. Eventually Val found what he was looking for — a rabbit. Dad laughed and leashed Val, then made his way back to camp. In the morning, his commanding officer asked for a recap of the evening's events. When dad told him the story and outlined the route, the commander told him he was a lucky guy. Floyd and Val had walked through an unmarked land mine which hadn't been mapped!

After the service, Dad re-entered Ohio State University and then met Shirley Ann Wells, his future wife, after being asked to train the dog of one of Shirley's sorority sisters. Floyd and Shirley were married on August 2, 1958.

They raised their three sons at Country Mile Farm, the property Floyd originally bought with Jim, his brother, with some help from Shirley's father.

The past week, people have made the following remarks about Floyd:

Floyd was a father to us, and also a father figure for many young folks in Belmont County.

He was a great man. He gave me my first job when I was 13 or 14 helping on the farm. He taught me a lot growing up.

My son is devastated by Floyd's passing. He was like the grandfather my son never had.

Floyd was a community leader. His many activities included taking collection at Belmont United Methodist Church, serving as Commander at American Legion Post 312, serving on the steering committee for the Smith-Goshen Landowners Group, and acting chairman and consultant for the Drovers Trail Scenic Byway.

Floyd was also an excellent artist, using slate to create paintings of people and animals. He drew intriguing cartoons for the church bulletin, and for years drew caricatures of children at the Barnesville Middle School career day.

In all things, Dad showed kindness of spirit and generosity of heart. He was a traveling animal pharmaceutical salesman who looked forward to being back home. Returning home one day, his wife met him at the door, insistent that Ron had been bad and "needed a spanking." Floyd took his young son by the arm and announced loudly, "C'mon, let's go back and take care of this!" Then he closed his office door and whispered, "When I tell you to, yell REAL LOUD." He gave the signal and Ron let out a big fake cry.

That was our softhearted dad in a nutshell.

Family and friends will be received at Toothman Funeral Home in St. Clairsville, OH, on Thursday from 10 a.m. until time of service at 1 p.m. with Rev. Theresa Bobot and Rev. Dan Purdom officiating, with additional thoughts from Charlie Tobias. Burial will follow in Wesley Chapel Cemetery, Belmont, OH.

Will you help us fight the disease that took our father from us?

If so, please contribute in Floyd's name to The Aplastic Anemia and MDS International Foundation (<http://www.aamds.org/donate/tribute>). Local contributions can be made to Belmont United Methodist Church or the Smith-Goshen Rice Enrichment Fund.

SHIRLEY ANN SIMPSON

1935-2015

Shirley Ann Simpson, 80, of Belmont, Ohio, died at home surrounded by her family on Saturday, December 12, 2015.

She was born April 17, 1935 in Coshocton, Ohio, a daughter of the late Albert Laverne Wells and Frances White Wells.

Shirley graduated from Columbiana High School in 1953, achieving Valedictorian status in her class. At The Ohio State University, Shirley graduated with two bachelor degrees, one in Arts and the other in Dental Hygiene. She was an active member of the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and Glee Club. After leaving college and getting married to Floyd, she became a member of Belmont United Methodist Church and the local Farm Bureau. She immensely enjoyed playing piano - something she was able to do despite the ravages of the aphasia which afflicted her. To raise the boys, she learned how to garden, farm, cook, and can food. Every summer we scraped corn off the cob and bagged it for the winter, to be sure, a chore for teenagers, but an activity we all look back on now with fond regard. She canned peaches and tomatoes and wild plums she grew from trees just outside her garden. She raked hay during the long, hot summers, never complaining and always ready to do what it took to keep the farm in business. Needless to say, she was an avid Ohio State University football fan - she even attended the Rose Bowl as a student and was a high school and college wrestling supporter.

Surviving her are her husband, Floyd Simpson; three sons, David Simpson of Fremont, California, Ron Simpson of Hollywood, Florida and Randy (Lisa) Simpson of Pataskala, Ohio; and two grandchildren, April and Jared Simpson. BAR

SKEDDEL, Bertha Elizabeth Rush, 79, known to her friends as Betty, died on Tuesday, August 31, 2010, in the Wheeling Hospital after a long and grueling illness.

She was born August 2, 1931 in Wana, W.Va., the daughter of the late James and Lily Kennedy Rush. She was a Christian by faith. Betty was a high school graduate of the former West Liberty High School. As a high school student, she served as the family seamstress making school clothes, coats and evening gowns for her younger sisters, Mary Kay and Barbara. She collected antique sewing machines throughout her life.

Betty will always be long remembered for her skills with a needle. She could sew, embroidery, cross stitch, crochet and knit, but her real passion was for quilting having won four first place trophies at the Ohio County fair.

Friends and family who knew her well, knew she watched, loved and purchased from the QVC network. The UPS man, Peterson Hospital Staff, Wheeling Hospital Employees and the Ross Heart Center in Columbus knew that bringing in the QVC network was a requirement for her stay there.

Her husband, David knew her addiction to the network, but he also knew he was her first love, as she waited at the door everyday for him to finish his chores and return to the first love in his life.

SLIWINSKI, STEPHANIE

SLIWINSKI, Walter J.

"Cannonball," age 88, died Monday, August 15, 2011. Walter was born in Neffs, Ohio and grew up on a farm. TZ

In his teen years he became a serious baseball player. At age 18, he moved to Cleveland to work for Alcoa and send money home. He became an air traffic controller at Cleveland Airport, now Cleveland Hopkins, after taking classes at Cleveland State University. He returned home to help on the farm and played ball for the Stewartsville Merchants, the United Mine Workers, and the Wheeling Intelligencer League during which time he was recruited by the St. Louis Browns, a team that later moved and became the Baltimore Orioles. Walter earned the nickname "Cannonball" for his blazing fast ball when pitching and was also an excellent hitter. Roger Berrick, from St. Clairsville, OH remembers Walter as a legend of baseball in the area. He told of a time when the Merchants were losing badly to Shadyside, a city about 20 times larger. After the coach asked "Where's Cannon ball?" and was told he was "up on the hill making hay", someone was sent to get him. Walter brushed off the hay and proceeded to strike out the remaining batters allowing Stewartsville to win the game. There are many similar stories of his baseball achievements. His baseball career was interrupted when Walter joined the U.S. Navy during WWII where he served as a signalman in the Pacific. He married Joyce M. Korinek September 2nd, 1950. He was a dairy farmer for most of his working life, an avid gardener, and loved to read. Walter moved his family to Medford, WI in 1973 where he took over Joyce's family farm from her stepfather Peter Janda, developed a dairy herd, and excelled in growing crops. He also had time to make an outstanding name for himself in the surrounding bowling communities. He retired to Robertsdale, Alabama in 1997. He is survived by his wife, Joyce M.
